PROFILE

Stephanie Hill launched her career in commercial real estate while earning her bachelor's degree in Marketing at the University of Alabama at Birmingham (UAB). During her junior and senior years, she interned in Southpace's Property Management department. After graduating, she transitioned into a full-time role in the company's marketing department before shifting to the sales and leasing side of the business in 2020. Now serving as Director, Stephanie specializes in retail tenant and landlord representation as well as acquisitions and dispositions for third party clients.

Stephanie enjoys the fact that there is always something new to be learned within the business and no two deals are ever identical. Nothing makes her happier than being able to help make her clients' goals and dreams come to fruition. Born and raised in Fairhope, AL, Stephanie enjoys the hustle of the city life and appreciates the peacefulness of her hometown when she visits. In her free time, she enjoys whipping up new recipes for her family and friends and playing with her dog Harper.
