PROFILE

Luke recently moved to Birmingham, AL after his wife was matched with a residency program at a local hospital.

Luke has a Degree in Business Marketing from Cedarville University and has built a solid background in sales. Relationships are important to Luke, and that was one of the reasons he was attracted to the commercial real estate industry. Luke makes it his goal to not just help his clients with the requirements of their needs, but to truly understand their visions and goals while building a lasting connection. "Every ounce of thought and devotion I can put into a deal is done so that the client can maximize their potential success," says Luke. "My faith, family, friends, and helping others succeed in what they do, are most important to me."

Luke recently married the love of his life and is excited for their new journey in the Magic City.
